Mentorski odnos v kontekstu znanstvenega sodelovanja in produkcije znanja

12:05-12:45 |izr. prof. dr. Luka Kronegger, Fakulteta za družbene vede, Univerza v Ljubljani

Namen predavanja je prikazati rezultate projekta z naslovom »Mentorski odnos v kontekstu znanstvenega sodelovanja in produkcije znanja«. Raziskovalni projekt je obravnaval mentorstvo kot specifično obliko znanstvenega sodelovanja ter ključen mehanizem za prenos znanja in oblikovanje karier. Projekt je naslavljal vrzel v obstoječih raziskavah, ki mentorstvo in znanstveno sodelovanje praviloma obravnavajo ločeno, manj pozornosti pa namenjajo njuni povezanosti in vlogi mentorstva pri produkciji znanja. Osrednji cilj je bil razviti in empirično preveriti večnivojski model mentorskega odnosa, ki povezuje individualne značilnosti mentorjev in mentorirancev, institucionalni kontekst ter strukturo znanstvenih omrežij in znanja. Predstavitev rezultatov projekta na povezavi.

(Ne)privlačnost karier raziskovalcev v Sloveniji: dejavniki, razmisleki in premisleki

12:50-13:30 | prof. dr. Boštjan Udovič, Fakulteta za družbene vede, Univerza v Ljubljani

Namen predavanja je prikazati rezultate empirične raziskave o razvoju karier raziskovalcev v Sloveniji. Gre za prvo vseobsežno nacionalno raziskavo, ki je vključevala 1000 raziskovalcev, v kateri so prikazana mnenja raziskovalcev in raziskovalk o tem, kateri dejavniki spodbujajo in kateri zavirajo razvoj raziskovalnih karier posameznika oz. posameznice.

Razprava in zaključek

13:30-14:00

Dogodek bo potekal v slovenskem jeziku, povezovala ga bo Sara Maksimović (SZK UP). Dogodek se bo snemal.

Agenda

Welcome address

Prof. dr. Štefko Miklavič, Vice Rector for Research and Development at the University of Primorska

Mentoring relationships in the processes of scientific collaboration and knowledge production

12:05-12:45 | Assoc. Prof. dr. Luka Kronegger, Faculty of Social Sciences, University of Ljubljana

The purpose of the lecture is to present the results of the project entitled »Mentoring relationships in the processes of scientific collaboration and knowledge production«. The research project addressed mentoring as a specific form of scientific collaboration and a key mechanism for knowledge transfer and career development. The project addressed a gap in existing research, which typically treats mentoring and scientific collaboration separately, paying less attention to their interconnectedness and the role of mentoring in knowledge production. The main aim was to develop and empirically test a multilevel model of the mentoring relationship that connects the individual characteristics of mentors and mentees, the institutional context, and the structure of scientific networks and knowledge. The presentation of the project results can be found at the link.

(Un)attractiveness of researchers' careers in Slovenia: factors, reflections, and considerations

12:50-13:30 | Prof. dr. Boštjan Udovič, Faculty of Social Sciences, University of Ljubljana

The purpose of the lecture is to present the results of an empirical study on the career development of researchers in Slovenia. This is the first comprehensive national study, which included 1,000 researchers, showing the opinions of researchers on which factors promote and which hinder the development of an individual's research career.

Discussion and conclusion

13:30-14:00

The event will be held in Slovenian and coordinated by Sara Maksimović (SZK UP). The event will be recorded.
